

STRAUSS ZELNICK

CHAIRMAN

Strauss Zelnick, a founder of ZMC (Zelnick Media Capital) since 2001, is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Take-Two Interactive Software, one of the world's leading video game producers and distributors. Mr. Zelnick also sits on the Board of Directors at CBS (NYSE: CBS), where he is the interim Chairman, and Starwood Property Trust Inc. (NYSE: STWD).

Prior to forming ZMC, Mr. Zelnick was President and Chief Executive Officer of BMG Entertainment, at that time one of the world's largest music and entertainment companies with more than 200 record labels and operations in 54 countries.

Before joining BMG Entertainment, Mr. Zelnick was President and Chief Executive Officer of Crystal Dynamics, a producer and distributor of interactive entertainment software. Prior to that, he spent four years as President and Chief Operating Officer of 20th Century Fox, where he managed all aspects of Fox Inc.'s worldwide motion picture production and distribution business.

Previously, Mr. Zelnick spent three years at Vestron Inc., two as the company's President and Chief Operating Officer. Mr. Zelnick also served as Vice President of International Television Sales at Columbia Pictures.

Mr. Zelnick holds a BA from Wesleyan University, as well as an MBA from Harvard Business School and a JD from Harvard Law School. He lives in New York with his wife, Wendy Belzberg, and has three children.